Four persons were injured, one seriously, when a jeep overturned in Timber Creek Canyon in Palo Duro Canyon Wednesday morning.

Most seriously hurt was Charlie Dunn, 25 years old, employee of Six-Gun City and believed to have been the driver of the vehicle.

Dunn suffered severe injury to his right hand.

The others hurt were Tech Sergeant and Mrs. Cecil Lawyer and their four-year-old daughter, Vicky, all of Waco. Attendants at Neblett Hospital said the Lawyer family suffered only cuts and bruises.

They were believed to have been passengers in the jeep which reportedly belongs to Jim Sorenson of Six-Gun City. They were brought to the hospital here in a LaGrone ambulance, given first aid treatment and then transferred to Amarillo Air Force Base Hospital.

The third and fourth fingers of Dunn's right hand were amputated.

His hand is believed to have been caught beneath the windshield of the jeep when the vehicle overturned.

Details of the accident still were lacking when The News went to press.

The Lawyer family includes two other daughters, Terry and Penny, who were not in the jeep at the time of the accident. The Lawyer family was here on a vacation trip.

Dunn's home is Grand Junction, Colorado. Officers said he is a helper at Six-Gun City, an amusement area at the western edge of Palo Duro State Park.

The accident was investigated by the Highway Patrol.

LaGrone also reported on the Old Settlers Reunion. He said the function was near self-supporting. There was discussion about whether to continue the annual old fiddlers' contest.

Possibility of providing other entertainment for the reunion is under study.

Roland Black reported the zoning committee recommended that the city council rezoned at Seventh Avenue and 15th Street to permit construction of a dental office there.

A brick veneer building is contemplated for the office.

Canyon Fire Station Has New Puppy

Canyon fire department has a new mascot.

A three months old puppy, called Smokey has been acquired by the Canyon fire department and will become a familiar figure on the back of the fire engine as it races through town.

Joe Rice, fire captain, heard that a small Dalmatian puppy had been turned in at the city pound and quickly went to work to get the dog.

"We had been looking for a Dalmatian for quite awhile before this one showed up," Rice said.

Men at the fire department wanted to carry out the old tradition of the spotted dog riding on the back of the fire engines, and they have high hopes of what Smokey will do.

"We will begin training him in about a month. He will be going to all the fires before too long," Rice explained.

"Dalmatian dogs are reportedly good for riding because of their keen sense of balance. They have large feet and are able to balance themselves while a truck is moving," Rice said.

The pup received his necessary shots this week and made himself at home in the fenced-in area next to the fire station.

These cute grade school misses are ready for the doors to open this morning as the school begins for the 1963 season. Deidra and Nicola Johnston, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Johnston, Debra Abbot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Abbott and Becky Blewett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linn Blewett, are ready for classrooms, teachers and school books after a long summer of play.

Classes Begin Today As Enrollment Soars

More than 1100 grade school children are expected to begin school today in the Canyon elementary school.

Oscar Hinger, principal, had estimated approximately 1100 children would be in the lower six grades this fall, but following Wednesday's registration the total of enrollees probably raised.

"We can't tell definitely how many children we will have for several days, but we had more new enrollments than we had expected," Hinger said Wednesday morning.

The elementary school building underwent construction changes this summer in order to handle all grade school children. In years past only the first three grades held classes in the elementary building. This year all classes from the first through the sixth grades will be held in the building. The cafeteria has been doubled to take care of the additional three grades, and 24 class rooms have been added.

To teach the children 48 teachers will be in the elementary school. Seven teachers will have first graders and seven will teach second grade. The other four grades will have six teachers in each.

Other teachers include physical education, music, speech and the school nurse.

School begins for all grades at 8:35 a.m. this morning (Thursday) and ends at 3:35 p.m. First graders will be excused from class at 2 p.m. for the first three weeks and 3:05 after that time.

Discuss Zoning At Commission Meeting

Amendment to the city zoning ordinance was considered by the Canyon City Commissioners Monday night at the regular meeting following a request that two lots in the residential section of town be rezoned to a retail classification.

Christopher & Vaughan Company made the request in order to construct a dental clinic at the corner of 15th St. and Seventh Avenue.

Commissioners discussed the changing of the ordinance whereby dental clinics would fall under the category of permissible uses in dwelling areas. The commissioners discussed amending the ordinance to prevent spot zoning in the future.

They agreed that stipulation of off-street parking should be included in the amendment so future businesses would have to provide parking facilities off the city streets.

City speed zone changes were also approved by the commissioners during the meeting. Speed limits within the city were raised to 40 miles per hour between Second Avenue and the north city limits on 23rd St. and Twelfth Avenue to Fourteenth Avenue on 23rd St. Between Harrell Lane and 26th St. on Highway 217 the speed limit was changed to 35 miles. On Highway 217 between Harrell Lane and the east city limits the speed was changed to 45 miles an hour.

In other business Monday the commissioners approved the disbursement for July. They also voted to participate with Doug Rittenberry in the construction of a fence one-half mile in length on the west side of the dump ground with the city's portion not to exceed $200.

Also discussed was the sale of property for delinquent taxes which will be auctioned October 2.

Boosters Call For Members

Canyon Booster Club is looking for new members to help support the Canyon Eagles this fall.

At the regular meeting of the group Monday night, plans were made for present members to sell membership cards throughout the area.

Other action taken at the meeting was the acceptance of $50 from the Junior Chamber (See BOOSTERS, Page 7)

Wheelock Is Chess Champion

John Robert Wheelock was declared Panhandle Chess Champion and Lubbock City Chess Champion last week in Lubbock while participating in the Panhandle Open Chess Tournament.

The chess tournament was held at the Caprock Hotel in Lubbock on August 24-25. Wheelock received two trophies.

He is a graduate student in physics at Texas Technological College and the son of Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Wheelock of Canyon.

Hunter Boy Doing Fine After Fall

Raymond Earl Hunter, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hunter, is doing fine this week after he fell through the plate glass door at the Canyon bowling alley Friday night.

The boy received minor cuts on his left hand and head, and was operated on Friday night to sew a cut on his right wrist.

He spent one night in Neblett Hospital and was taken home Saturday.

"Raymond's right arm is doing fine," the boy's mother related this week.

Bufs Open Practice Sept. 1st

Football returns to the campus at West Texas State University as 53 candidates for the Buffalo squad turn out to meet head coach Joe Kerbel on September 1.

Two-a-day sessions will be held into the second week of drills until Kerbel feels the team has progressed far enough to cut back to one workout per day. The practice sessions will begin at 6:20 A.M. and 3:30 P.M.

Eleven lettermen and a fair crop up from the frosh ranks will be included in the opening day group. The backfield headed by "Pistol Pete" Pedro and Jerry Richardson will feature experienced starters at all positions. However, the line (See BUFs, Page 7)

Susan Lair Is Injured

Susan Lair, 11 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lair, was hospitalized over the week end after suffering a head injury at the city swimming pool Saturday afternoon.

She fell into the pool and struck another swimmer. She continued playing in the water until she became ill. She was taken home and her condition worsened.

She was taken to Neblett Hospital for treatment. Members of the family described her condition as good early this week.

F. Williams Homerun King

Frank Williams grabbed Canyon's Homerun King title after belting 20 homeruns this summer in Little League competition.

Williams, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hersey Williams, ended his last season with the Braves by breaking the homerun record which was held by Jimmy Albracht. Albracht hit 12 homers last season to break the previous record of 9.

Williams attributes all of his hitting power to "just being lucky."

"Last year I struck out all the time because I was always wanting to hit a homer. This year I just tried to get strong hits, and I would usually get a homerun," Frank shyly admitted.

The young shortstop does not expect to do as well next year in the Babe Ruth League.

"This year it was only luck. Next year the pitchers will know how 'not' to pitch to me," the homerun king said.

Whether Frank can hit another 20 homeruns next year will be determined next summer. This year he is Canyon's Homerun King.

Canyon's Homerun King Frank Williams, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hersey Williams, slammed 20 homeruns this summer in Little League games. Frank beat last year's record of 12 homeruns. He enters the Babe Ruth League next summer.

CANYON RIM

Commissioners court this week took up some time in discussing the need for a veterans service officer.

This brings the question to our mind. Does Randall County really need a veterans service officer? We'd like to hear from some veterans on the subject. We think the court would also.

Offhand, having a local veterans service officer on the payroll 20 years after World War II and 10 years after Korea strikes as having a parallel with the Brits who made a family business out of watching for Napoleon.

When it looked like the Little Corporal was going to hit the Dover coast, the English Government assigned a watcher to the cliffs above to watch for the French.

Well, you know how governments go. They seldom cut off a job or a tax, once begun. The job was handed down father to son and some member of the family probably still would be watching for the emperor had the family not become extinct.

The last of the line died during the second year of World War II. We don't know whether his demise was caused by boredom or eye strain but he gave up the ghost after a lifetime of looking without so much as a glimpse of the great Napoleon.

It is up to the veterans of this county and to members of commissioners court to make the decision. We merely raise the question, do we still need a veterans service officer or are we, too, looking for Napoleon?

Speaking of the Randall County budget, we hope to see a good turn out for the public hearing. Clarence Beckman said Monday that during his 27 years as a county commissioner, a total of only three people have shown up for budget hearings.

Charlie Stratton, a research engineer from Bartlesville, Okla., was by the office for a chat the latter part of last week. Charlie noted that hundreds of ideas are discarded in the research laboratory for each one that is used. He was of the opinion that if a similar course were followed in government, we'd be sticking closer to our constitution.

... We came in the other morning to find on our desk a book entitled "Ideas to Live By" by Bob Wear, the Canyon philosopher.

It is 63 pages of the wisdom of the ages boiled down to essence and presented in the language of our time.

Here is a jewel which would make all our lives easier: "Justice demands that we make an honest and sensible allowance for others and ourselves, too."

The books are available at news stands and book stores in Canyon.

... Wildlife, especially rattlesnakes and skunks, are on the increase because of soil bank acres providing refuge. Rabbits and coyotes also are becoming more numerous.

It's a good idea to keep a snake bite kit handy. We're surprised that more people are not bitten.

Hilltop Views

My subject this week is "Lest We Forget." It is about a man whom West Texas State, Canyon, and all Northwest Texas (in fact, the whole state) should hold in grateful memory for an indefinite future.

In 1909, Hon. R. B. Cousins, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, wrote the bill that created what is now West Texas State University. He was one of three state officials who, in a contest between 28 West Texas cities and towns, chose Canyon as the seat of the new institution. In the fall of 1909 he was elected its President and in March 1910 he announced the names of the first faculty.

He was key member of the state committee that drew the plans and let the contract for the college's first buildings, and he supervised their construction. He took up residence in Canyon Jan. 1, 1910, organized and had printed the first course of study, and made all arrangements for opening the institution in the Court House Sept. 20. (The main building was not complete).

He served as President of the college until voluntary retirement, August 31, 1918. R. B. Cousins was an educational statesman if Texas ever had one.

On September 20, 1941, just 31 years after the doors of the institution were first opened, the following evaluation of the man was made by the then President before the assembly of faculty and students.

"All that this institution stands for is traceable directly or indirectly to its able and courageous founder. He believed profoundly in God and in an understanding relationship with Him for all those who aspire to achieve lives of greatest usefulness and happiness. He believed in the democratic way of life and that the United States of America is the best political expression of that faith. He believed in the curse of ignorance, in the efficacy of schools, and in the blessedness of teaching. He believed in the power of learning to open blind eyes and unstopped ears, and that every man should be exposed to its influence. He believed in the promise of youth. In the authority of ideals, and in the responsibility of every man for his own destiny. He had profound respect for truth wherever found and in whatever relationship, and had the courage to face it unflinchingly and profit by its meaning. He hated falsehood and pretense and deception with all the venom that a great soul is capable of. He was as tender with the waywardness of youth as is the good mother with babe in arms, but he was as intolerant of unrepentant sinfulness as God is of the Devil. He had an uncanny ability to evaluate men and rarely made mistakes in judging human character. He trusted completely those he employed, but once he was betrayed he dropped mercy from his vocabulary. He believed in the institution which he fathered and plainly told those students and faculty members who were not happy here to "seek safety in flight." He had no patience whatever with growlers and malcontents, and few could stand the withering effect of a glance from his deep, piercing, brown eyes. In his presence either you were inspired to think and to feel and to act at the highest level of your being, or you felt like hanging your head in shame that you were living so far beneath your possibilities.

Such was the man and such were the ideals that governed West Texas State the first eight years of its history."

"God of our fathers

Be with us yet,

Lest we forget,

Lest we forget."

Switch grass, which was not bordered, was seen at the Carroll Forrester farm.

The board left Canyon about 1:30 p.m. Friday and returned around 5 p.m. that evening.

The committee holds five meetings yearly, and the next meeting will be in October. Business of the next meeting will be to review actual costs of practices which have been installed and then to set an average cost which will go into effect in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagner were in Hammond, Oklahoma to visit with a number of relatives who attended a reunion last week end.

Carolyn Ann Kuper-Allen R. Evers Exchange Vows In Hereford

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Richard Evers are at home near Summerfield following their marriage ceremony which was performed August 12 at St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Hereford.

The bride is the former Carolyn Ann Kuper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuper of Summerfield. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Evers of Umbarger.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Hubert Byrnes of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

A formal gown of white satin with a cathedral train was worn by the bride as she was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore gray accessories and complemented the ensemble with a scatter pin on the left shoulder and a wrist corsage.

Maid of honor for the wedding ceremony was the bride's twin sister who wore a two-piece dress with a thin white under-bouise. She wore a carnation corsage and black accessories.

Jerry Carver, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man for the afternoon ceremony.

Mrs. Flake Thurman, aunt of the bride, presided at the guest table for the reception immediately following the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents.

The mother of the bride wore a cherry red silk sheath dress with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding.

A pink and white two piece dress with pink accessories was worn by the bride as the couple left on a wedding trip to points of interest in the Ozark Mountains in Arkansas. After Sept. 1, the couple will make their home in Foreman, Arkansas.

Frank Hoyer Marriage Is Solemnized

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank of Canyon announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Velma Jo, to Perry Hoyer. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Hoyer of Dimmitt. He attended West Texas State University and is employed in the cattle business at Tulia.

A graduate of Canyon High School, the bride graduated from West Texas State University and taught at Spearman High School last year. She will be employed as a teacher in the school system at Happy this fall.

lace circled the skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Frenched carnations that was centered with an arrangement of white orchids.

Satin roses trimmed the pillbox hat that held her elbow-length veil of bridal tulle. Tiny seed pearls and beads were used as highlights on the pillbox. She carried a tiny gold cross with an opal set that belonged to her grandfather. The bride's wedding ensemble was fashioned by her mother and grandmother. Mrs. Phillip Acker, from Nazareth.

Three fan-shaped arrangements of white ruffled gladioli and majestic daisies were used on the altar. Baskets of white gladioli, standing in front of fern trees, were used to flank the central altar.

Appropriate prenuptial selections were presented at the organ by Miss Linda Wiek of Umbarger. "On This Day O Beautiful Mother", "O Mary To Love Thee", "Paris Angelicus", "Veni Jesus", and the traditional "Rossini Marches" were played by the organist. "Ave Maria" and "Mother At Your Feet Is Kneeling" were presented by the vocalist, Edward Dziuk of Hereford.

Miss Lynda Kuper attended her sister as the maid of honor. She wore a formal gown of pink chiffon and net over yellow taffeta with a rounded neckline featuring pink chiffon roses on the left shoulder and back waistline. She wore white gloves and a pink nylon leaf shaped hat with a short veil. She carried a large white carnation bouquet and her only jewelry was a tiny golden bell on a chain, a gift from the bride.

Returning home last week from the World Boy Scout Jamboree in Marathon, Greece, were five Canyon Eagle scouts. Shown with many of the articles the boys swapped for while at the encampment are Randy Warren, Kenny

Canyon Scouts Return After European Trip

BY MARGO WILLIAMS

Five Canyon Boy Scouts are still flying high this week following their month stay in Europe for the World Boy Scout Jamboree in Marathon, Greece. George Cox, Randy Warren, Bill Long, Clifford Sherrrod and Kenny Crossland returned last Wednesday after visiting and touring six foreign countries. "We had fun," was the outstanding statement from the Canyon boys.

Their experiences ranged from trading scout uniforms to having an audience with the Pope in Rome.

"The most hairraising experience we had was riding in foreign buses and taxis," the boys laughingly agreed.

"We were scared to death at the driving of taxicabdrivers in New York, but when we got to London and Rome there was no comparison," one of the scouts recalled.

"On one of the narrow streets in London, the bus driver stopped and told six strong boys to get out and move the car off the street. They just picked it up and set it on the sidewalk," Kenny Crossland said, as he shook his head.

But the boys continued to point out that they saw few accidents.

"I guess people just accepted the fact that everyone would drive like that and just lived with it," George Cox said.

"They had to just live with it," Randy Warren continued. "There were no policemen on the highways. We saw a few in towns, either on bicycles or in a small car, but we never saw one on the highways," he said.

One incident was recalled from their days in Rome.

"A taxi cab driver asked us if we were Texas cowboys and we said we were. He turned around and said, 'Well, I'm a Rome cowboy', and off he went. He scared us to death 'cunning' that car that way," Clifford Sherrrod humorously recalled.

The boys accidentally had an audience with the Pope in the Vatican.

"We were just roaming around in the Vatican when we went into a room and there all these people were. The Pope wished us well at the Jamboree and on our trip," one of the boys said.

The boys had many tales to tell concerning the Jamboree. "The national word was 'change'. Every boy from every country could say that word, because everyone wanted to exchange or swap for something," Randy said.

And the local scouts were no exception. George brought home a Scottish kilt, a pair of Australian shorts, several vases, three knives, a wooden doll from Japan and hats from several countries.

Randy exhibited his glass and pitcher set he brought to his family and remarked that he had already given much of his merchandise away to friends and relatives.

Clifford returned with badges from most of the scouting troops represented at the Jamboree and neckerchiefs from many countries.

Kenny eagerly showed his knives, vases and badges for which he traded while at the encampment.

"Everyone wanted to trade for something, and we had to be careful or we would have swapped everything we had," Kenny pointed out.

The 14,000 boys attending the Jamboree were divided into 11 subcamps, and at meal times boys would go to various subcamps and eat meals with boys from other countries.

"The only trouble we had was with the language," the boys agreed.

But through the use of sign language lines of communication were established.

"We had our own newspaper which was published on the camp at Marathon, and it was printed in several languages. Most of the announcements were made in Greek, French and English," Clifford declared.

"Most of the boys spoke at least two languages, and boys from Denmark spoke at least five different languages," Kenny marvelled.

When asked about the differences in the school systems in other countries, the scouts agreed that the U. S. has a better rounded school program.

"Other countries emphasize language and skills more than we do. A boy or girl has to be very smart to go from high school to college. Usually they finish high school and enter a trade school or go back to their father's farm and work," Randy said.

During the afternoons and evenings special programs were presented by various scout troops at the Jamboree. Each country would put on a show of their national hobby or industry. The Danes showed how to spin a rope, the Americans had an Indian dance, and the boys from south Africa demonstrated some of the local dances.

"You could make the Jamboree what you wanted to. You could sit around all day, or you could get out and meet all kinds of boys and learn of their country," Kenny pointed out.

"We all roamed around a lot. One of the most interesting shows we saw was the sword dance by the Arabs. And of course we were amazed at the South Africans. Those boys could pick up anything and make music with it," George said.

When asked about some entertaining incidents, Kenny recalled the time one of the boys got locked in a dungeon in Rome.

"They had been inspecting the old dungeons and a guard accidentally locked the door on them. You should have heard them yelling to get out. It took us about 30 minutes to get the guard back and unlock the door.

"And remember the time one of the boys got the sugar and salt bags mixed up? We ate sugar instead of salt before we realized the mistake," Randy laughingly recalled.

When asked if they wanted to return, they all quickly said yes.

"Next time I would like to go on a motorcoter and spend several months just travelling around the countryside," George said with a faraway gleam in his eye.

Improvement Major At Lake Wildlife Refuge

Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge has undergone a face change recently under the supervision of the refuge administration. More than one mile of dirt top road has been regraded and reditched from the entrance to the refuge from the Umbarger Road, past the refuge headquarters and the concessions area, across the dam and finally coming out on the paved road which skirts the east side of the refuge lake.

The regrading was done on a $2000 contract with a private road building company.

The refuge management has recently added six new rest room facilities to the major use areas on the refuge. Two units have been placed at the south end of the lake, two units have been placed at the picnic area on the east side of the lake and another two units placed on the west side of the lake between the concessions area and the dam.

At the concessions area, additional and improved parking has been made available by the concessionaire. The old parking area has been regraded, packed and has had drainage installed. The new parking facilities will accommodate up to 100 cars and trailers, according to refuge personnel.

The refuge has also installed new bouy markers for the no-wake area at the north end of the lake in which boaters are prohibited from leaving a wake large enough to reach the shore line. The regulation is necessary to maintain a calm water area where boats may fill up with gasoline and take on supplies and to provide an area where fishermen can fish undisturbed by boaters and water skiers, according to refuge personnel.

The refuge management has had several picnic and camping areas cleared of excess brush, stumps and dead trees, to beautify the areas and to cut down on the fire hazard caused by unattended campfires.

The refuge is presently clearing its farm lands in preparation for the planting of wild-life and migratory waterfowl feed for next winter. These include winter wheat and other grains.

Fish Biting For Local Fisherman

"I lost big Charlie," laughed Mr. W. H. Harden as he good-naturally told of his 68 days of fishing in Gunnison, Colorado this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harden left Canyon in June with their house-trailer hitched to their car. Over two months later they returned home with stories to tell of their fishing days.

"We caught our limit each day, and would give them to people who were living in the trailer camp near us, or just folks in the area," Harden explained.

The Hardens gave a rough estimate of over 300 fish caught the first 40 days.

"My son and family from Eunice, New Mexico, were there with us the first month or so, and with all of us fishing we caught nearly 300 fish the first 40 days," Harden smiled proudly.

"As every fisherman says, 'the big one got away,' and it

One large fish hung on my hook, but just as I was about to bag him he got away," Harden said.

But Mr. Harden was not too dismayed about missing his large catch.

"We've gone up there for the past five years and I hope to go back next year," Harden declared.

But the 80 year old fisherman and his wife did not come back empty handed. They each brought back the limit: 10 fish apiece.

After all spies, traitors and enemies were captured the group went to the Canyon City Club for their picnic lunch and spent the afternoon hiking and swimming.

Mrs. Morrison expressed her appreciation to the boys for their co-operation during her tenure as Den Mother at a short business meeting held during the afternoon. The picnic was her last meeting with the group as her son will join the Webelos Den next season.

To conclude activities, the cubs formed a Living Circle and repeated the Cub Promise. Present for the outing were Neal Knighton, Randy Lyles, Kenny Stevenson, Larry Prichard, Alan Dugan, and Gene V. Morrison. Unable to attend were Craig Henderson and Mike Wilson, Den Chief.

Famous Art Collection Is Recived By Museum

More than 400 pieces of art from the collection of the late Mrs. H. S. Griffin was received last week by the Panhandle Plains Museum.

Curator Boone McClure returned Thursday from Taos with the last art items willed to the museum by Mrs. Griffin. McClure hailed the collection as one of the "most valuable collections the museum has ever received."

"We acquired enough articles to fill at least one or two rooms in a wing," McClure said.

Among the items brought to the museum was a painting by Ferdinand Jean Monchablon, one of America's finest landscape artists.

Also included in the collection were such pieces of art as a painting by George Inness, and an unfinished wooden carving by Nicolai Fechin.

The Inness original is entitled "Oaks in Autumn" and was awarded the Temple Silver Medal in the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in 1892. The Temple Silver Medal is given to the best landscape and marine picture exhibited at the academy.

Mrs. Griffin had two homes in which she kept furnishing and art work ranging back 300 years. From her home in Taos, McClure brought in an original Swiss record box with three cylinder records having eight songs on each.

He also received a Chinese writing box and sewing box inlaid in gold on lacquer.

A large metal 14-drawer chest decorated by Gisella was among the unique pieces given to the museum, and an original miniature painting by Giorgia-Giulio-Clovio made in the early 1500's was also acquired.

In the Wichita Falls home, Mrs. Griffin had kept such items as jade figurines, Chinese wood carvings, paintings by artists from the southwest, and furniture from several countries.

"We received some 50 paintings from the collection," McClure said, as he walked around articles in the collection.

A list of some of the pieces include 30 pieces of designed Ivory, several Ivory carved tusks with two doors opening to a yard scene, two Ivory 8 inch figurines of a man and a woman, one Jade goddess, one bronze war lord, one bronze cat by Eugina Charad, a Eugene Charad bronze frog, a bronze bust of a girl, a Chinese hat rack, two mondarin capes, one antique Asian wall hanging, 22 Indian blankets, an Oriental wall hanging, bowls, pots, vases, bronze plaques, a brass coffee pot, and a copper Chinese warmer.

A tall wooden Madonna and child and a crucifix Tortoise shell were among the priceless articles which will be shown at the museum when space is available.

"Now all we need is a place to show this collection," McClure continued. "We have things stored in this building which have never been shown because of lack of space. I hope we will be able to show many of these things before too long," he concluded.

Vacationing at Monument Lake in Colorado last week were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Demus and children, Allen and Mike, of Canyon.

Mrs. J. E. Maxwell and daughter, Mary Beth, were in Wellington, Kansas to attend the wedding of Miss Ruth Ann Cox and Dennis Ramey.

Miss Cox and her parents live on a farm owned by the Maxwells.

Buffalo Grid Team Will Take To Practice Field

TOM W. GREENHOE

When Fall arrives in the Golden Spread, colors bloom out everywhere. The entire area becomes a golden hue; womens clothes flare out in bright reds, greens, blues and so on.

At West Texas State University the color comes out Cardinal and White, the color of the Buffalo football uniforms.

Next week the Buffs will take to the practice field under the watchful eyes of head coach Joe Kerbel and his staff. Three weeks later the squad will be out in full dress at Buffalo Bowl for the season opener against Arlington State, September 21.

Coach Kerbel will greet this year's team with mixed emotions on opening day. The Buffaloes have some great football players back from last year's squad that posted an 8-2 regular season record and the tremendous 15-14 win over Ohio University in the Sun Bowl. But the great football players back this year are few in number and do not have the usual amount of experienced ball players to back them up and give the starters an occasional rest.

Lost from the 1962 team are such standouts as halfback Jerry "Don" Logan, the nation's leading scorer in 1962, quarterback Jim "Corky" Dawson, guard Stu Johnson, and tackles Bob Petrich, James Cunningham, Dory Funk Jr. and Dick Lowrey. Each one of these boys helped to write the standout chapters over the last two or three years the Buffaloes have come back to life as a football power in the Southwest.

Coach Kerbel's first job will be to fill the vacancies left by these graduated lettermen. The toughest spot to fill will be at tackle. Only John Varnell, 6' 4", 240 lbs., has had any game experience under Kerbel's pro type split-T attack. The tackle position is the pivotal point in Kerbel's offense and immediate help must be found to fill this position with capable ball players.

Varnell has been handicapped by injuries during his career at WT. It is hoped this season he will be able to stay healthy and become a leader in the Buff line. Big John has the equipment to become one of the outstanding linemen in the nation in '63, if he can avoid serious injury.

Three boys are in the fight for the other tackle position. Counted on at the present to start opposite Varnell are either Wilton Manley, Jerry McGill or Bobby Walton. Should all three of these lads come through with strong performances this season, the line picture at WT would be greatly strengthened.

The rest of the Buffalo line is headed by some very fine football players. But again the problem of depth and exposure to injury rears its ugly head. Ends Jim Ostrander and Quinton Eppinette, both converted backfield men, hope to duplicate their fine '62 seasons. Each had a standout year and are counted on to receive the brunt of duty on both offense and defense. Eppinette led the end corps last season with 9 catches and 3 TD's. Ostrander's biggest pass grab was the 2-point conversion play against Ohio U. in the Sun Bowl which gave the Buffs their margin of victory.

At the guard position, a study in contrasts presents itself. Leader at this position is Jack Mayfield, 6' 0", 225. Jack may be one of the best interior linemen in the nation according to coach Kerbel. He has tremendous strength and football sense playing at his blocking position or backing up the line. Mayfield will be counted upon to stop the rushes of some of the top fullbacks the Buffs will face this season.

Mayfield's running mate at guard should be Jim Denny, 5' 10", 180 pound mighty mite from Borger. Jim gives away as much as 50 pounds to the players he faces across the line of scrimmage, but that isn't all he gives away. He has been known to whip an opposing player the whole game who outweighed him by many pounds. Denny is a real rock-er, sock-er type player who gives his all no matter what the odds. He is also the leading blocker for the backs on end sweeps.

Packing up Mayfield and Denny are Willie Thompson and Gene Baldwin. Both will see plenty of action throughout the year. Thompson has been the victim of freak injuries but should come on strong this season to match his fine performance in the Sun Bowl game.

At center the Buffs have the necessary experience and depth in two returning lettermen, Charles Daves and Doc Rowell. Both boys had good '62 seasons and are expected to anchor the line this year. Daves excelled as the center linebacker during his sophomore year. He started the opening game of the season without any previous college experience. Doc Rowell came on strong later in the year and gave the Buffs a solid one-two punch at the center spot. Both are juniors.

The backfield will feature all returning starters with one to spare. Both Ollie Ross and Russell Mundy, who shared the fullback duties last year, will be back to provide the inside punch for the Kerbel attack. Bill Lornace, who could not play in '62 due to a mix-up in registration, will return this year to give added depth to the FB post.

The halves are well manned this Fall with "Pistol Pete" Pedro and Jerry Richardson returning. Pedro, WT's number one All-American candidate, should provide the Texas Panhandle with all the thrills they can handle for another Fall. If Pete can stay healthy this season, something he has not been able to do the past two years, there is no telling how far he may run.

At the other half is Jerry Richardson from Canyon. Jerry has about the best pair of pass catching hands for a halfback in the nation. His running and blocking ability leaves little to be desired. He is high on the lists of the pros and should be a top draft choice in December by both leagues.

At quarterback is where the real question comes face to face with Kerbel. David "Hoot" Gibson, one of the wildest and most exciting players anywhere, is the only experienced signal caller. It must be remembered that David led the defensive backfield the past two years and has not seen an excessive amount of action on offense. But he supplied Kerbel and the fans enough heart stopping antics on the field last Fall to last for many seasons to come. Dave runs like a man who doesn't have the slightest idea where he is going, and this style shakes up the defense too. His ability to fake a pass three or four times before throwing or running with the ball has caused opposing linemen to leap around like a bunch of beginners on a trampoline. He is a good passer even though throwing only three times last year.

The pressure is on Gibson this Fall, and the Buffs could well rise or sink depending on how well he directs the team on the field. Whatever the outcome, Hoot will certainly please the fans with his unpredictable style of play. Holding down the fort for Gibson will be Bill Bundy and Boots Barker. Bundy should see a lot of defensive duty at safety.

Extra pounds and out of shape legs will get a good going over the first week of practice. Two a day sessions will be held until the squad begins to come around and take shape. Conditioning and learning new offensive and defensive keys will fill the first few days. The practice sessions start at 6:20 A.M. and 3:30 P.M. each day until Kerbel calls the cutback to one workout per day. The coach will greet 53 men on Press Day, Saturday the 31st, and get down to serious business the next morning.

Guarded optimism is the word around the WT campus right now, particularly when one looks at the murderous schedule confronting the Buffs this Fall.

"If we can win four games, we will be lucky people," says Kerbel. "The teams we have to face are all real powerhouses and vastly improved over 1962. We will give away speed and weight to almost every opponent. But I know we have some of the finest football players and men in the country and I'm sure they will play hard all the way and never give up. Win or lose, anyone that comes out to Buffalo Bowl this Fall will see a fighting Buff eleven playing a good brand of football. I like these boys, and we all should be proud of the way they have represented WT, Canyon, Amarillo and the great Texas Panhandle."
